OUR CEREMONY

In Their Own Words

WELCOME

Family and friends, welcome. We are gathered in this beautiful place to celebrate the love of Emma and James, and to witness the beginning of their marriage. Today is joyful, and it is theirs.

OUR STORY

They met on a rainy Tuesday in a crowded coffee shop, and neither of them remembers what they ordered. What they remember is the laughter that followed, and the feeling that they had found their person.

VOWS

I promise to choose you every day. I promise to laugh with you, to listen to you, and to hold your hand in the easy seasons and the hard ones. You are my home, and I will love you always.

EXCHANGE OF RINGS

These rings are a circle with no beginning and no end. May they be a daily reminder of the promise you make today. With this ring, I marry you.

OUR SPECIAL RITUAL

Two sands, two stories, one heart. As you pour them together, may your lives blend as beautifully as the colors you see, and may your love never be sorted apart.

PRONOUNCEMENT

By the love you have shared and the promises you have made, it is my joy to pronounce you married. You may seal it with a kiss.
